Meteorologist's View

Whilst the sunshine maybe rather hazy at times, high to very high UV levels are expected on Saturday, so plentiful sun protection is recommended. Top temperatures in the most sheltered valleys nearer 20C.

Forecast for Sunday 20 Jun 2021

Weather: Generally cloudier and cooler on Sunday, with rain likely at times, although some drier interludes are also possible. The best of the weather is likely further to the west. Windy through the morning, especially at height, but easing off a bit later on.

Maximum wind: East backing northeast later, gusting 25-30 mph over summits, perhaps 40 mph early in the day.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: Generally 50-60%, best chances of decent vistas further northwest across Snowdonia.

Visibility: Pulses of rain will bring variations in the visibility, with extensive bases as low as 400 metres, especially in the east and south through the morning. Patches down to 500-700 metres from mid-morning onwards. Clearest summits always more likely further north and west.

Temperature: Valleys: Plus 8 Celsius rising to plus 16 Celsius.
At 800m: Plus 7 Celsius rising to plus 10 Celsius.
Freezing level: Above the summits.
